We Children from Bahnhof Zoo

Reimagining the seminal youth culture novel Christiane F. and the cult film starring David Bowie
A series with music at its heart, including a Bowie infused soundtrack

We Children from Bahnhof Zoo follows the story of six teenagers searching for their place in the world. Christiane, Stella, Babsi, Axel, Michi and Benno find each other in the intoxicating clubs and underground parties of a timeless West Berlin. They are strong, courageous and living wildly in this 'paradise' – one that initially appears to be a riot of colour, daring and excitement.

At the centre of the group is Christiane whose life is torn apart by the devastating separation of her parents. She escapes her home only to find herself slipping into a seductive underworld. As the group's bond intensifies they hedonistically chase the next thrill, navigating their way through euphoric highs and dark, dangerous lows. As their lives and relationships expand and unravel, their individual traumas drag them into a tailspin that some of them will never escape.

The series is a provocative coming-of-age story that takes viewers on an immersive, thrilling journey. Vivid, passionate and beautiful, We Children from Bahnhof Zoo is destined for cult status.

Anna

Created and directed by multi-award-winning novelist Niccolò Ammaniti

Based on the best-selling novel of the same name

From leading Italian producers Wildside
(We Are Who We Are, The Young Pope and The Miracle)

Anna is set during a devastating pandemic, in which humanity has been pushed to the verge of extinction by a deadly virus called the 'Red Fever'

A stunning, gripping new drama, Anna follows a young girl as she fights for survival in a world devastated by a deadly pandemic. All adults have died from the illness, while children are seemingly immune until puberty. As a result, mankind has been reduced to its youngest inhabitants and the world as we know it has come to an end.

Anna, fast approaching puberty and certain death, looks after her younger brother Astor in an old farmhouse on the beautiful island of Sicily. When Astor disappears, Anna sets off to find him, undertaking an incredible adventure that sees her exploring the abandoned towns of Sicily, finding love with the optimistic Pietro and battling against a gang of wild youngsters.

Anna stands on the threshold of a world that is increasingly large and frightening, on an emotional quest for salvation. Will she unlock the secrets of the Red Fever and save herself and her brother?

THE SISTER

From Neil Cross, writer of international hit series Luther and Spooks

Starring Russell Tovey (Years and Years)
AMr.ita Acharia (Game of Thrones, Acquitted) and Bertie Carvel (Doctor Foster)

Coming this autumn to ITV

The Sister is a distinctive, tense psychological drama about murder, ghosts, and the lengths people will go to in order to escape the past and hang on to what they hold dear.

Nathan (Russell Tovey) seems to have it all – a loving wife, a lovely home and a great job. But he’s never been able to forget the worst night of his life: a party that led to the sudden, shocking death of a young woman, Elise, many years ago. Only he and Bob, an old acquaintance, know what really happened, and they have resolved to keep it that way. But when Bob resurfaces after years away, unpredictable and unhinged, Nathan has to decide how far he will go to keep his secret safe and protect his new life.

As the story unfolds and the shocking events surrounding Elise’s disappearance are revealed, surprising connections come to light between the past and present, with devastating consequences.

The Investigation

Written and directed by Oscar-nominated Tobias Lindholm (A War, Borgen, Mindhunter)
The truth behind the story that shocked the world

The Investigation is a gripping new dramatisation of the extraordinary, heroic police inquiry into the mysterious 'submarine murder' of Swedish journalist Kim Wall.

When Wall's shocking death made headlines around the globe in 2017, the public demanded swift action. The Danish police began an investigation that would, however, be hindered by an infuriating maze of legal loopholes, missing evidence and changing stories. The Investigation, made with unprecedented insights from those involved, details the extraordinary police work led by Detective Jens Møller, and the uncompromising resolve, innovation and determination that ultimately led to justice.

No Man's Land

A fast-paced, thrilling drama about how far we will go to save the ones we love

From the producers and creators of False Flag, The Young Pope and The Returned

This cinematic thriller combines espionage and action with visceral characters and emotional family drama, spanning multiple countries and interconnected narratives.

Antoine, a young French man, is struggling to come to terms with the death of his sister, Anna, in a terrorist bombing in Cairo several years ago. Clinging to the belief that she is still alive, he abandons his life in Paris and travels to the Middle East to find her. His search takes him to Syria, where his life becomes intertwined with those of Sarya, a fighter with the YPJ – a group of brave Kurdish female freedom fighters and their international supporters – and Naser, a former British soldier who left London to join ISIS with two radicalised childhood friends.

Featuring an international cast, No Man's Land brings the visual impact of a feature film to the small screen. One of the first television dramas to explore life in both the ISIS and Kurdish camps within the Syrian conflict, this is a prestige, pioneering drama with a hard-hitting, resonating storyline.

The Witnesses

Inspired by the work of leading science writer and psychologist Dr Julia Shaw, an exclusive consultant on the series

From the award-winning producers of the Deutschland trilogy

Inspired by the bestselling book The Memory Illusion by Dr. Julia Shaw, The Witnesses is a tense, highly emotional series that explores the power of our memories – and how little we can trust them.

A ten-year-old girl is kidnapped in the middle of the crowded Natural History Museum in Berlin. Nobody claims responsibility. There's no ransom demand. The only key to her rescue seems to be buried in the memories of those who witnessed the incident.

The girl's father, a prominent politician, insists on bringing in the brilliant memory researcher Dr. Jasmin Braun (Alexandra Maria Lara). She's tasked with evaluating the eight witness' memories of that day in order to reconstruct the crime exactly as it unfolded, pulling out any memories about the perpetrators as quickly as possible, with time fast running out for the missing girl.

With the investigation underway, Dr. Jasmin finds herself pulled into a web of intrigue as the twists, turns and double-crossing reveal that the case is an intricate revenge plot, in which she has to confront difficult memories of her own.

THE NEW YORK TIMES

“Delightfully escapist, with a globe-trotting spin.”
VOGUE, US

Deutschland 89 begins with the iconic fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989, as the global paradigm suddenly shifts. This series follows our heroes – and villains – through the first chaotic months of reunification, as the Cold War thaws and their lives are thrown into uncertainty.

Superspy Martin Rauch (Jonas Nay) finds himself facing a crisis; pursued by Western Intelligence agencies even as his identity and purpose disappear overnight, and his fellow East German spies scramble to reinvent themselves, fleeing both East and West. Lenora (Maria Schrader), meanwhile, is willing to do anything to stop East Germany being swallowed by the West. Martin becomes entangled in her latest scheme, and the two finally come head-to-head in a dramatic climax.

All the while, Martin’s love life is as chaotic as ever: following a chance encounter with Nicole (Svenja Jung), their relationship blossoms. Martin soon realizes there is more to Nicole than meets the eye and wonders whether he can trust her.

As the political tides turn, rivalries between East and West still bubble under the surface of the new world order. For those caught in the changing tide there’s extraordinary drama as we complete the Deutschland trilogy – a brilliant end to this critically and commercially acclaimed series.

“ Exit has taken Norway by storm.”
BERLINGSKE,
DENMARK

“ Deathly good television.”
DENMARK

Exit picks up where it left off, with Adam under police investigation and heading for rock bottom; his wife Hermine pregnant with his best friend Henrik's baby; William in a psychiatric ward, and his wife Celine left completely alone, unsure of her future. Jeppe at least is there to continue the debauched proceedings of old, roping in his best friends where he can.

When William is finally released from the ward drug-free, he is intent on revenge, upending his life with Celine and aspiring to become more successful and rich than ever, whatever the cost. There is emotional – and literal – blackmail as Adam, Hermine and Henrik enter into a deadly power game, once again unable to resist the pull of drugs and vice.

Based on real events, series two ramps up the extravagance, excess and high-stakes deceit of Oslo's wealthy elite, making it truly unmissable television.

Face to Face

Viaplay's most popular launch of 2020

Utterly addictive from the offset, the story follows police officer Bjørn Rasmussen (Ulrich Thomsen, The New Pope), as he is sent to a forensic pathology unit to pick up the case of a young woman who has died from apparent suicide. When he arrives, he is horrified to find out that the victim is in fact his own daughter, Christina. Refusing to accept her untimely death as suicide and after finding evidence pointing towards murder, a furious and grief-stricken Bjørn sets off on a whirlwind journey to discover the truth.

Featuring an all-star cast, Face to Face is a compelling series full of secrets, lies, twists and turns that unfold in an innovative dramatic structure: the series covers a time-span of 24 hours and each 30-minute episode focuses on one location and only two or three characters – creating new levels of intensity, jeopardy and edge-of-your-seat suspense.

“ A high-impact Swedish thriller”

NEW YORK TIMES

A young Romanian woman named Lidia is lured to Sweden with promises of a better life, but is instead forced into prostitution.

When the severely wounded Lidia is brought to a hospital in Stockholm, doctors are horrified to learn that her injuries derive from a brutal whipping at a brothel, where she is being forced to work after being trafficked from her native Romania.

In the same hospital, senior police officer Ewert Grens is chasing a lead that may just expose a notorious mafia boss, a dangerous man who Ewert hates with a vengeance. With the lines between criminal and victim rapidly blurring, two stories of passionate reprisal twist together, ending in a dramatic climax in a room full of hostages in the hospital's basement morgue.

Can Ewert and his young colleague Mariana Hermansson untangle the complex and deadly web of secrets? What answers does the elusive Box 21 hold? And, when it comes down to it, will Mariana protect the senior officer she so admires?

SEIZURE

A psychological crime thriller with a mind-bending twist

Top performing Norwegian title on Viaplay

“Mixes elements of traditional Scandi noir with a more supernatural twist.”
VARIETY

From crime drama auteurs Miso Film, this stunningly original drama follows a unimaginable case which entangles two detectives whose realities begin to crumble as they race to solve a sinister crime, blending the best elements of a tense, contemporary thriller with a mind-bending kick.

We follow new partners Sander and Max, both troubled men, as they investigate their first case together. The gruesome crime seems inexplicable, and the two men quickly find that it has a deep impact on their psyches, leading them into a dark world of hallucination, fear and doubt.

This is gripping, cerebral crime drama. As their subconscious trauma begins to bleed into their reality, the detectives realise they must dig deeper and race to solve the mysterious crime or risk losing their minds completely.

Reunions

From the producers of Baron Noir, a light hearted drama set on the tropical island of Réunion

Jeremy is a middle-aged, working class man who never had any relationship with his father. He is suddenly informed of his father's passing, leaving him with a half-brother, Antoine, who he never knew existed and with whom he now owns a hotel on the paradise island of Réunion. He and his partner Chloé are thrilled.

But things are not as rosy as they might initially seem. Antoine is the same age but comes from a very different, bourgeois background. It soon becomes clear that the hotel is on the verge of bankruptcy and it will require the half-brothers and their contrasting families to make huge sacrifices, working together to turn things around.

In this heartwarming drama exploring the importance of family, parenthood and the class divide, we learn that we cannot escape our problems. But with the help of family, we can come together and overcome our differences if we try.

Our Miracle Years

From multi Emmy Award-winning producer UFA Fiction

Highest rated drama since 2018 on ARD

In post-war Germany, local communities, businesses and families strive to rebuild and the country attempts to rid itself of its Nazi legacy.

Over a decade, this sweeping family saga follows the lives and loves of the Wolf family: industrialist Eduard, his wife Christel and their three daughters Margot, Gundel and Ulla. We trace each family member's search for new success, and explore how Germany became the formidable economic power we see today.

Eduard is forced to go into business with Walter Böcker, a Nazi. Ulla leaves home to become a doctor while Gundel stays to help with the factory. Meanwhile, Margot's husband Fritz, a former SS officer, turns up alive and well after being presumed dead.

When Eduard is accused of being a Nazi collaborator and commits suicide, it sets a chain of events in motion that none of the family could ever have anticipated, and that will leave lasting consequences for all.

“A good case of home-grown drama.”
SYDNEY MORNING HERALD

Join Hugh and our favourite Whyhope characters as this heart warming medical drama returns for a fifth series.

Hugh Knight's days as a high-flying Sydney heart surgeon are well behind him, as we find him truly settled into his bad-boy local doctor role in sleepy Whyhope. Adapting to small-town life hasn't always been easy for Hugh, but he's shaken off his playboy ways – mostly – and learned some important life lessons along the way.

This season we find Whyhope in crisis, with the local mining industry on its knees and the hospital temporarily closed down. With everyone looking to Hugh to save the day, even he wonders if he can step up and fight for his hometown.

Meanwhile, we discover that Penny is newly single and working for the competition – the much bigger, shinier Stanwell hospital, one town over. Matt and Charlie return from their travels to find Hayley and Ajax have moved into their house, and it doesn't lead to smooth sailing for either couple, while Meryl finds herself getting the town council into seriously hot water.

Arctic Drift

Trapped in the ice for 365 days, Arctic Drift takes us on a groundbreaking scientific voyage, making history and re-writing our future

The MOSAiC expedition

10 years of planning	2,500 km travelled drifting at 7 Km per day	1,000 km away from the nearest land	600 experts from 20 countries
390 days in the ice	$150m cost	-45 °C temperatures	150 days without sunlight

“ The largest Arctic research project in history and one of humanity’s greatest efforts to understand how melting at the pole will affect the rest of the planet.”

THE WASHINGTON POST

The Arctic is warming faster than anywhere else on the planet, the sea ice already having declined by 30 percent. Experts now believe an ice-free Arctic would have disastrous consequences for the rest of the planet – causing sea levels to rise and scrambling our weather, causing brutal heatwaves, shock cold spells, and disastrous storms. It’s no longer just about steady global warming – these are rapid, volatile changes to the world we know.

Arctic Drift is the urgent, landmark documentary event of our time. It tells the epic story of a vital, pioneering scientific expedition deep into the spectacular Arctic Circle; the epicentre of climate change. Arctic Drift follows 300 scientists on board Polarstern; the ship that is their home and research base, frozen into a fragile, drifting ice floe, for an entire year.

The MOSAiC expedition, ten years in the planning, is taking an intrepid, international team of climate scientists thousands of miles to secure the previously unattainable data we desperately need to transform our understanding of climate change before it is lost forever.

In one of the harshest environments on the planet, we follow the dangers, dramas and challenges that face the team, as they brave the brutal Arctic winter in their search for answers locked within the sea-ice, ocean and atmosphere, allowing us to understand for the first time how this dynamic and enigmatic landscape regulates temperatures and climate across the globe.

Over 12 million people were kidnapped and sold into slavery. At least two million perished en route at sea

An important and sensitively-crafted series shedding new light on 400 years of human trafficking, as millions of enslaved Africans were shipped to the Americas by Western European slave traders.

Hollywood icon and human rights activist Samuel L. Jackson takes us on a powerful and personal journey, travelling the globe to reveal stories of immense suffering and greed, as well as of resistance, accomplishment and hope.

For the first time, new diving technology has enabled an experienced team of deep-sea divers to locate and examine sunken slave ships on three continents, revealing an entirely new perspective on the history of the transatlantic slave trade.

Scientific detective work, clues from retrieved underwater artefacts and dramatic reconstruction combine to serve as a platform for examining the ideology, economics and politics of slavery – both of the enslaved people and their European captors.

This series provides a fresh and authentic history of the transatlantic slave trade – one that demonstrates to today's audiences that this is a truly global story.

Day Zero

Written and directed by acclaimed Emmy and multi-BAFTA award-winning Kevin Sim

Water scarcity already affects four out of ten of the world's population and soon it will be the future for most of us

Day Zero represents prestige factual documentary filmmaking with an urgent message. Filmed over a three-year period, it's a journey across the planet seeking those on the frontline fighting to protect the world's most precious resource – fresh water – from running out.

Extreme water shortage is the calling card of climate change, and as the global population grows it is not a fear for the distant future but an urgent problem we must face today. Day Zero challenges us to consider how we can protect the global water resources that are critical to the survival of every person on Earth.

Deeply resonating and relevant the film examines the debilitating water crisis across three continents: the Cape Town water crisis of 2018; the violent impact deforestation in the Amazon is already having on global water supplies, and how intensive farming in the American Mid-West is depleting vital water resources and aquifers at an alarming, irreversible rate, leading us towards catastrophe.

Featuring exclusive interviews from a cast including not only the world's leading scientists and experts, but also the cattle ranchers, chambermaids and park rangers up close and personal with the crisis. This is a meticulously researched, hugely informative documentary that will raise awareness and change the way we think about the Earth's most vital resource: water.

Trial in the Outback

The Lindy Chamberlain Story

Narrated by acclaimed actor Sam Neill, who starred alongside Meryl Streep in the Oscar-nominated 1988 film A Cry in the Dark, dramatising Lindy's story

Released in 2020 on the 40th anniversary of Azaria Chamberlain's disappearance

This revelatory new documentary, from award-winning director Mark Joffe, finally shares Lindy Chamberlain's own story of her traumatic wrongful arrest in 1980. We hear in her own words how she was accused of murdering her baby daughter, Azaria, who disappeared deep in the Australian outback.

This eye-opening series tells the story of every parent's worst nightmare. In 1980, Azaria was taken from a campsite by a wild dingo, but there were no witnesses and the body was never found. The investigation cast Lindy as a bad mother and the local police force – rife with prejudice – arrested and imprisoned her for murder.

Trial in the Outback focuses on Lindy, now 72, as she gives her first-ever extensive interviews and shares her personal archive, including previously unseen footage of baby Azaria. With exclusive access to original police files and fascinating insights from key figures including lawyers, experts and eye-witnesses, we examine the witch hunt that ruined her life and the lifelong impact of wrongful imprisonment.

Made you Look A True Story About Fake Art

The shocking exposé of how one New York art gallery sold $80 million worth of fake masterpieces to the super-rich elite in a fraud that stunned the world

“The deep dive the art world has been waiting for into the scandal that erupted around the Knoedler Gallery.”

THE OBSERVER

Made You Look: A True Story About Fake Art is a hotly-anticipated American crime documentary, going behind the headlines of the biggest art fraud in US history, set against the backdrop of the super-rich, status-obsessed, fast-paced New York art world.

In the hallowed art galleries of New York, masterpieces change hands for millions of dollars. In a rare insight into this elite world, we follow the sensational court case of Ann Freedman, the veteran director of the prestigious Knoedler Gallery, who sold over $80 million of fake masterpieces to collectors. The question is, was she in on the deception?

The story focuses in on the shadowy art brokers Glafira Rosales and her husband Jose Carlos Bergantiños, and master forger Pei-Shen Qian. Together, Rosales and Bergantiños conspired to sell a collection of over 60 ‘newly-discovered masterpieces’ including Pollocks and Rothkos – all by Pei-Shen.

Through exclusive, extensive interviews with both the scammers and the scammed, we meet a cast of fascinating characters including Freedman, Bergantiños and the victims of the fraud, like Chairman of Tom Ford, Domenico De Sole. As lawyers, collectors and experts weigh up the evidence of whether Freedman was unwittingly caught up in the lies or was a complicit, knowing accomplice.

Amazon: The Lost World

The vast Amazon rainforests have always been a dark, unexplored wilderness, home to diverse wildlife and only a few remote, scattered tribes. Or so we thought. Amazon: The Lost World unveils the archaeological discovery of an ancient, complex, previously unknown Amazonian civilization.

Explorer and paleoanthropologist Ella Al Shamahi is rewriting the history. Joining pioneering, unprecedented expeditions into the jungle, using cutting-edge underground radar technology and hearing from indigenous experts, we uncover previously undiscovered cities and watch as a hidden world is discovered and mapped.

The quest to understand our species' complicated history has never been more profound than in South America, where iconic civilizations inexplicably perished. The experts in Amazon: The Lost World contend with dangerous animals, drug cartels, gold miners and poachers as they travel the Amazon, revealing the rich history of the societies that once existed in the midst of this enigmatic jungle.

We share in the thrilling discoveries of ceremonial earthworks, explore previously unseen settlements and uncover a vast cache of rock art, complete with handprints that shed light on the first Amazonians from 10,000 years ago.

Okavango – A Flood of Life

Filmed over a 14-month cycle in stunning 4K, Okavango – A Flood of Life is a story of survival and hope

Using the latest filming technology and extraordinary access from the air, Okavango – A Flood of Life reveals the incredible story of the Okavango Delta, Botswana, like never before. Filmed over a full cycle of seasons, this documentary reveals relationships – both human and animal – in a land where the presence or absence of water changes everything.

This breathtaking, blue-chip natural history film is seen through the eyes of an indigenous River Bushman. Our storyteller guides us through the course of the Okavango's flood and into a savage drought, interweaving intimate and spectacular wildlife stories.

The arrival and disappearance of precious water determines the destiny of the millions of animals that call the Okavango home. For many, the flood is a lifeline. For others, it brings the greatest challenges. Everyone lives or dies by this epic event. It is the heartbeat of the Kalahari Desert.

Searching for Cleopatra

In Searching for Cleopatra, we seek out the latest groundbreaking archaeology and research to unravel the mystery of the elusive Egyptian queen. We discover that Cleopatra was more than the romantic narrative that has surrounded her to this day – she was in fact a learned scholar and mathematician.

At Taposiris Magna in Egypt, archaeologist Dr. Kathleen Martinez is searching for the tomb of the country's most famous pharaoh, using painstaking archaeology and cutting-edge technology.

Dr. Martinez makes unique and rare discoveries that include the astonishing find of a tomb containing two mummies, decorated in gold leaf, undisturbed for 2,000 years. Coupled with the search for her final resting place, we retrace Cleopatra's life and revolutionise our understanding of who she was and how she lived.

Portillo's Greatest Railway Journeys

In this new series, Michael Portillo takes us back to some of his most fascinating railway journeys across Britain and Ireland, Europe, the US, Canada, India, Australia and South East Asia. Looking back at his personal highlights, Michael remembers the remarkable local people, culture and history he's encountered making the much-loved Great Railways series over the years

A love letter to the railways and to the places that they connect, we revisit iconic experiences from London to Jerusalem, the Grand Canyon to the Taj Mahal and more, as Michael guides us with his trademark charm and curiosity, giving his personal insights and revealing behind-the-scenes stories.

In 10 themed episodes, Michael explores the impact of the railway on politics, nationhood, the spread of cultural ideas and revolution since its invention less than 200 years ago.

Great Continental Railway Journeys

Michael Portillo travels through Europe to understand life during the First and Second World Wars. On his travels, he visits Spain, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, Austria and the Czech Republic, learning about the old empires of Europe swept away by revolution and a dozen new nations that embarked optimistically upon independence.

He'll see how technology leapt forward, aeroplanes and motorcars connected with trains in a transport network which spanned the globe. How jazz and cinema entertained the industrial masses, who lived, worked and played under the bright lights of the great metropolises but, across the continent, communists and fascists battled to govern Europeans, whose fragile peace was shortly shattered once more by war.

Great British Railway Journeys

Michael Portillo is travelling the UK by train once again, this time with the 1936 edition of Bradshaw's famous railway handbook to guide him. The 1930s was an unmistakably modern era in Britain, and at every stop on his journey, Michael shows us the unique local heroes, histories, mysteries and eccentricities of the towns, cities and people he meets.

His first trip takes him from Oxford through Surrey and Buckinghamshire to Winchester. We then set off from ancient market town Saxmundham in Suffolk to travel east to the Norfolk coastline, via historic Sutton Hoo. Finally, we visit Chester, and travel through the stunning Welsh countryside, discovering the magic of Wales.

Kevin McCloud's Rough Guide to the Future

Kevin McCloud dispatches three technology sceptics around the world to explore the latest technological advances

Like most of us, comedians Jon Richardson and Phil Wang and broadcaster Alice Levine have concerns about what lies in store for humankind. However, one man remains ever optimistic about technology and the future, and that man is Kevin McCloud. The world is changing at breakneck speed, with innovations like 5G connecting us like never before. For many of us this is exhilarating but daunting. Humanity is facing some big challenges, but Kevin believes that our extraordinary ability to innovate and imagine the impossible could save us. Kevin sends Jon, Phil and Alice off around the world to see if he can help them embrace robot butlers, lab-grown meat and other weird and wonderful technologies from China, Japan and America that could just save our future.

Apocalypse Cow: How Meat Killed the Planet

THE FINANCIAL TIMES

Author, journalist and activist George Monbiot is on a mission to prevent an ecological catastrophe. Food production, and the meat industry specifically, has a major impact on climate change and is an issue discussed globally. Livestock farming is responsible for up to 80% of deforestation in the Amazon and creates 18% of all greenhouse gas emissions, more than cars, aeroplanes and every other type of transport combined.

George sets off across the UK, Finland and the Netherlands to investigate just how our demand for meat is driving us towards global disaster, and how we can reverse the damage to the environment in future. Along the way, he meets with experts, including ecologists, conservationists and farmers, to fully understand the impact food production has on our land and the environment. He reviews alternative food sources and explores revolutionary new ideas that could restore the natural world and still feed billions of people.

Sewer Squad

Sewer Squad is the series that gets down and dirty with some of the unsung heroes of the UK's sewage system, as they battle 100-tonne fatbergs, fix 430 million litres worth of leaks a day and construct Britain's biggest new water pipe.

Cutting-edge technology allows us to explore sewers as never seen before. With unique access to one of the country's largest water companies, each episode follows a team of brilliantly cast network engineers. We follow the drama as they descend into tunnels hundreds of feet below the surface, not knowing what they could face.

Packed with fascinating characters, genuine jeopardy and major feats of engineering, Sewer Squad will make you think twice about the secret world of the underground rivers, fatbergs and sewage lying hidden beneath our streets.

The Great Giveback

Two families from very different worlds get to know one another, crossing the privilege divide and offering a hand up, not a handout

Outperformed the broadcasters average rating, including +85% for 15-34s

The Great Giveback is a unique, heart-warming social experiment that connects two families from opposite ends of the wealth divide whose paths ordinarily would never have crossed. Life lessons blossom as they inspire one another, and those with more to give, help those with a lot less to help themselves.

Over six months, we follow successful hairdresser Dylan Bradshaw and his wife Charlotte as they mentor Conor Grassick and his severely autistic brother Colin, transforming their lives and seeing the good their wealth can do for these struggling young men. We also see a self-made entrepreneur help a single mother of four build her own business, giving her a new start to life, and meet a family experiencing illness and heartbreak who are given new hope when they meet successful distillery owners ready to help them face the future.

These uplifting, emotional journeys challenge our ideas about both poverty and privilege, asking us to re-examine our ideas about social mobility and background as we get to witness huge feats of human kindness that touch the hearts of those on both sides of the wealth divide.

Five Guys a Week

The hit dating show where a single girl invites five guys to move in for a week, hoping to find The One. Sparks fly and tempers flare, but with five guys to pick from, who will she choose?

N° 1
dating show of 2020 to date
on Channel 4

This hot new reality dating show puts the woman in charge, as each day she learns more about her potential suitors to decide who will go and who will stay. In often cramped conditions, tensions run high and rivalries ensue as the bad boys and the nice guys compete with one another to win her over, and one-by-one are sent home empty-hearted until just one remains.

Fast-tracking the getting to know you process, the guys have to crash on sofas and floors, impressing flatmates and even parents hoping to win her heart.

Hailed as the next great guilty pleasure of reality TV, Five Guys a Week has already been commissioned in multiple territories across Europe and North America, including France, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, Finland and Canada, and it's easy to see why, as competition meets romance like never before.

Supermarket Sweep

It's time to go wild in the aisles with this hugely popular reboot of the classic game show

“ Rylan Clark-Neal is the perfect host for this candy-coloured revival.”

THE TELEGRAPH

Supermarket Sweep is back, and audience favourite Rylan Clark-Neal is welcoming more hopeful teams into his supermarket of dreams, ready for big fun, big prizes, and the chance to win £3,000!

In every episode, we meet three pairs of shoppers as they compete for the chance to go wild in the aisles! Contestants need to be quick on the questions and the buzzers, providing the correct answers to get more time on their clocks to raid the shelves of the studio supermarket for clues and special bonuses.

Season two features six special episodes, where Rylan is joined by celebrity guests also trying their luck in the aisles. It's the most fun you can have in a supermarket, complete with inflatable objects, pastel-coloured jumpers and trollies stacked high!

The Greatest Dancer is the vibrant, fresh, original entertainment show that sees dancers of any age and style bring their A-game to the biggest audition of their lives.

In the nerve-racking auditions, dancers perform in front of a two-way mirror which only opens to reveal the judges and studio audience in the studio if 75% of the audience vote them through. Emotions run high as the mirror slides away – or doesn't – and we follow the successful few through to the epic, high-stakes live shows. There are breathtaking performances and a lot of emotional highs and lows as we join the dancers on their journeys towards the final.

Clocking up 21 million viewers across the series on the BBC, The Greatest Dancer is the most-watched show of 2020 among younger viewers, with newcomer YouTube star Todrick Hall joining singing sensation Cheryl, Strictly Come Dancing breakout star Oti Mabuse and Glee actor Matthew Morrison to mentor the amazing dancers.
